

The Black Market of SR-358

SR-358's reputation as a hive for scum and villainy of all kinds precedes it by lightyears. Some smugglers flat out refuse to travel to it for fear of their lives.

Although it isn't fully illegal to sell cybernetics, some planets still outlaw them.

That led to the foundation of this market, hidden from everyone who isn't provided with the exact coordinates.