

Personal Log #4: This Planet

Captain's Log, entry 4. It's been at least a month, maybe? Since I crashed here.

With minimal supplies.

And no spare food.

I've been trying my best to survive out here, but it's been tough.

All kinds of monsters are everywhere I turn, and very little in the way of useful supplies. My databanks said I could make a circuit out of one of the melons that grows here. No idea how that works, but, hey - if the computer says so, then it must work.

I'll make another log when I can, I'm running out of space on this L-Drive. Curse me for not upgrading to a Q when I could...
